

JOB OPPORTUNITY

Research Assistant

Washington University School of Medicine, Division of Infectious Diseases, is looking for a motivated Research Assistant to work on a research project to study fungal infections in Bone Marrow Transplant patients.

Responsibilities include:

- Enrolling patients into study
- Interviewing patients and patient follow-up
- Shipping of lab specimens to CDC
- Data collection via chart review
- Data entry
- Literature searches

Requirements: Bachelor's degree in a health/science discipline preferred. Work experience in a research setting, excellent written and verbal communication skills, good computer skills, knowledge of statistical software a plus

Time commitment:

- ~40 hours/week
- Hourly wage and benefits

If interested, email CV and cover letter to:

Kerry Bommarito, M.P.H.

314-454-8221

314-454-8279

kbommarito@wustl.edu